The Angels of Hairdressing

Also known as

The Angels
of

Omana

Beloved,

We reveal the importance, deeper significance and divine function of hair, which is much more than cosmetic appearance.

Hair is critical to the bodys sensitivity to, and impact on, outside forces, whether visible or invisible.

As enlightenment manifests fully on earth, nature is finally recognized as the actual expression of enlightenment itself.

Every part of the natural world is now understood as important and necessary for the whole, an expression of divine wisdom, love, and power.

The natural hairy covering of the human body functions in extremely important ways that enable a son or daughter of God to effectively have dominion over creation itself.

That is why in times of darkness and ignorance, hair was often cut to limit and weaken control over consciousness.

The hair is a natural information biofeedback device.

*Hair should never be removed,
but worn in various ways to accomplish different purposes.*

Every part of the hairy covering of the human body serves a purpose that is important to the original scheme of nature.

The beards of men channel information to and from the mouth area of the cranial sphere, to the thymus, and into the area of the heart and solar plexus.

The heart has an electro-magnetic toroidal field 5000 times stronger than that of the brain alone.

We inspire the creation of the most beautiful and practical hair creations
for different purposes.

We inspire adornments with various colors through using ribbons or other decorations.

We inspire the use of sacred oils and substances on the hair.

The natural oils from the glands on the head that bathe hair in nature are divine.
This oily covering protects the hair, and dirt sits on it and can be easily washed off with simple water.

Harsh detergents strip this sacred oil, and make the hair shaft jagged and rough,
so that dirt works its way into the hair and is difficult to remove.

"Thou anointest my head with oil.

My cup runneth over.

Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life."

It is very important to use only the most sacred substances
on this sensitive part of the body temple.

We reveal the science of hairstyles, which is much more than convenience or fashion.

Every part of the human body is a material expression of particular divine qualities and purposes.

Hair is an exteriorized part, or extension, of the nervous system.

Among other things, hair contains selenium, which is used in the manufacture of diodes, and copper, which carries current.

Nerves carry electrical impulses, which correspond to Divine Will and Thought,
and since it is such an important extension of the nervous system, the protection and understanding of hair is necessary for manifesting heaven on earth.

For example, nerve poisons administered through pollution, even in the air or food, can be detected in hair almost immediately, even at the ends of very long hair.

Human hair is the most highly evolved biological antennae of Divine Being in Creation.

As such it is very precious and of great importance.

These antennae send and receive 4 part informational wavelengths of information.

These four part bandwidths are spiritual, mental, emotional, and the senses.

The longer the hair, the longer and greater the wavelengths that can be received and sent.

Human hair is much more evolved, but somewhat akin to, the whiskers of a cat or the feelers of a bug.

Like feelers, hair is an extension of the nervous system.

It is, in effect, nerves that grow outside of the skin.

The hair on the head creates an important feedback loop between the physical body and the subtle bodies.

Yogis and shamen often grow hair very long not only because of wavelength issues, but also because of connections that hair makes between various areas and chackras of their bodies.

Hair carries electro-magnetic energies of the brain to lower extremities of the body and vice versa.

As hair receives informative energies of various parts of the body that it touches and sends these signals back , it also responds to and sends subtle energies into the environment on all four levels of density.

imagine you know when someone wants to see you... or is thinking about you imagine that information can be exchanged through dreams and meditation

Telepathy

can become your new cellular phone

It is important to remember that most material technology today is just a sad attempt to copy the spiritual technology we all have within us as divine human beings of the universe

Head hair that is long and hangs naturally carries powerful feedback loops between the head and the entire length of the spine, with all of the glandular centers along it powerfully charged with electrical informational energy.

For this reason, in this age of enlightenment and harmony, we are the heavenly hosts inspiring the growing of hair so that it performs its natural functions.

The uniting of the glandular centers on the outside of the body in addition to the uniting of the glands on the inside through the internal nervous system is the original divine blueprint for the human body temple .

Men who have well-developed beards connect their heart center, which is the most powerful center in the body, with the head center.

The energy field of the heart is 5000 times stronger than the energy field of the head.

Connecting the head and heart through internal and external nerves allows a man to emit his true power as a divine being.

In addition, the energy from the jaw area and the throat chackra of the thyroid gland, which is the creative chackra, is also connected internally and externally.

This is a most important feedback loop between the trunk and the cranial sphere.

We inspire beautiful ways of wearing beards, from single braids to elaborate creations of fashion and mystical imagery.

All hair, both head and body hair, acts as antennae, sending and receiving energies with the outer world.

As hair picks up and sends energy, this energy is then received by the super and subconscious minds of all sentient beings, and with those who are aware with whole brain awareness, even the conscious mind.

When hair actually touches a person, a plant, or even a gentle breeze, electro-magnetic energy travels along the hair.

Hair is an amplifier of subtle energies of will, thoughts, emotions, and sensations.

Historically this fact was the cause of a great war in India and Pakistan.

For years these countries fought over who would retain possession of a few hairs
from the beard of an important saint.

The biblical story of Samson and Delilah further demonstrates ancient teachings concerning the strengthening and other divine purposes of hair.

We inspire the divine science behind coiffures, which is to position the hair
according to the amount and type of sensitivity and amplification desired for any occasion.

If you are in an intellectual situation in which it is important to minimize emotion,
it is a good idea to pile the hair on top of the head, to protect and enhance the cranial area and amplify the energy concentration to the crown and third eye chackras.

The cutting of hair to be short has accomplished this in the past, usually for military and intellectual reasons, but without the benefits of powerful amplification and reception of intellect
that is afforded by the piling up of long hair.

When an open and sensitive heart is desirable, hair flowing to the heart area is advisable.

This can be done either loose, or as a long braid, or in other creative ways that suit the occasion.

If the hair is parted in the middle, the energy of the two hemispheres of the brain flows in a balanced way to the trunk of the body.

If a part is placed on the right side of the head, then the energy of the right brain is directed to the left side of the body.

This enhances the intuition.

A left part enhances the energy of the memory and the rational intellect.

Pulling the hair back directs the energy to the medulla oblongata, the seat of memory of the soul.

Bringing the hair to the top of the head concentrates the energies of the brahmarandra, the soft spot at the top of the skull, the connection with higher dimensions of consciousness.

Adding beads of quartz, or other natural conductors of energy, adds beauty, and enhances the interactions of higher dimensional energies.

As you can see, the science behind different ways of wearing the hair is almost endless and the Children of Light use this information to make informed decisions to enhance the power of divine Love manifesting in creation.

As this information is understood, the whole rationale behind hairstyles changes from what it has been in the past.

As with raiment, hairstyles are no longer ways of conforming to obtain social acceptance, or merely matters of convenience, they are important and personal ways of channeling divine electromagnetic energies on an organic biological level with the rest of creation.

Nature, in her wisdom, knows how to manifest divine perfection in her natural state.

With long natural hair, the variety of beautiful hairstyles is greater.

Using hair to properly channel energy brings more sacredness, control, health,
and pleasure to the experience of living in creation in a physical body.

To grow hair, cut the very outer ends of the tips of hair every six weeks on a growing moon and get proper nourishment.

Even hair that normally does not grow long or fast responds favorably to this regimen.

The hairy covering of the human body has a special purpose in the divine blueprint,
and all hairdressers and barbers are under our guidance and protection.

Everything having to do with hair and beards falls under our competence.

All dyes, scissors, tools, and adornments are under our guidance and inspiration.

Umlaut O, euBy seeing hair through the eyes of the most profound Divine Love, the purpose and artistic possibilities of it are understood, revealed and brought into physical expression.

OThe virtue of Divine Justice is the law of harmony in everything.

In each situation, the placement of hair amplifies the harmony of the body
in response to a desired goal.

MThis letter is the sound of the divine virtue of emotions, which are the magnetic feminine power of attraction.

Magnetism attracts new realities in the physical world.

Feelings are received and sent through hair, so the power of materialization
is affected by the natural hairy covering of the body.

Whatever EMOTIONS are appropriate for the highest good of all concerned
should determine how the hair is worn.

If the desired emotions are romantic or compassionate, then hair that touches the heart chakra is important.

If feelings of strength and self-determination are important, the hair should touch the solar plexus area.

If feelings of objectivity, detachment, and cool-headedness are best, then hair should be worn piled on top of the head.

This virtue of feeling has a lovely blue-green color, is the water element so it has the sensation of coolness, vibrates to the musical note of D, and the abdomen is formed from it.

A The sound of A is a soft a like a sighahhhhh. This virtue, of highest wisdom and enlightenment, gives the intellect clear perception of the purity of all original ideas.

The real function and purpose of hair and hair styling becomes obvious when this virtue is mastered.

This has as a fundamental feature the enlightened mind.
Reasoning, perception, the cognition of the most profound truths, highest knowledge, high intelligence, and the arousing of all intellectual faculties are expressed.

Musical gifts, eloquence, poetic talent, and clairvoyance, clairaudence, the art of levitation, and the control of the air element and its beings are all aroused by this initiation.

On the physical plane the command of the beings of the air, control over storms, are all made possible by initiation into the highest wisdom.

The color of wisdom and enlightenment is light blue, the musical note is G, the element is air so it has the sensation of ease, and the lungs are formed from it.

Umlaut A, aeThe release of imperfect concepts and expressions concerning hair to Divine Being for transformation into another state that is the highest good of all.

N This is the sound of the virtue of Supreme Happiness, which is a primary reason why hair and hair styling is so important.

This virtue catapults one into the virtual seventh heaven of delight, and gives a feeling of complete freedom and independence.

It also is the driving force behind the instinct of self-preservation.

Hair is critical to the bodys sensitivity to and impact on outside forces, whether visible or invisible.

The strength and sensitivity of the body depends on healthy long hair for maximum protection.

On the mental level this virtue controls the interface between mind and feeling.

By mastering the virtue of happiness on a mental level, the ability to enlighten any other being who is worthy on account of their state of maturity, is gained.

The divine virtue of the highest wisdom and enlightenment unites the intellect with the eloquence, artistic talent, and clairvoyance necessary to choose and create the best hairstyle for any occasion.

Through inner guidance and the understanding of the original purity of all ideas in Divine Mind, a person can see perceive imperfections of being, will, thought, feelings, or sensations or form.

These imperfections are released back to Divine Being for transformation into another state that is the highest good of all.

MIRACLES

The Truth About Hair and why Indians would keep their hair long

Reported by C. Young

This information about hair has been hidden from the public since the Viet Nam War .

Our culture leads people to believe that hair style is a matter of personal preference, that hair style is a matter of fashion and/or convenience, and that how people wear their hair is simply a cosmetic issue.

Back in the Viet Nam war however, an entirely different picture emerged, one that has been carefully covered up and hidden from public view.

In the early nineties, Sally [name changed to protect privacy] was married to a licensed psychologist who worked at a VA Medical hospital.

He worked with combat veterans with PTSD, post traumatic stress disorder.

Most of them had served in Viet Nam.

Sally said,\ I remember clearly an evening when my husband came back to our apartment on Doctors Circle carrying a thick official looking folder in his hands.

Inside were hundreds of pages of certain studies commissioned by the government.

He was in shock from the contents. What he read in those documents completely changed his life.

From that moment on my conservative middle of the road husband grew his hair and beard and never cut them again.

What is more, the VA Medical center let him do it, and other very conservative men in the staff followed his example.

As I read the documents, I learned why.

It seems that during the Viet Nam War special forces in the war department had sent undercover experts to comb American Indian Reservations looking for talented scouts, for tough young men trained to move stealthily through rough terrain.

They were especially looking for men with outstanding, almost supernatural, tracking abilities.

Before being approached, these carefully !

selected men were extensively documented as experts in tracking and survival.

With the usual enticements, the well proven smooth phrases used to enroll new recruits, some of these indian trackers were then enlisted. Once enlisted, an amazing thing happened.

Whatever talents and skills they had possessed on the reservation seemed to mysteriously disappear, as recruit after recruit failed to perform as expected in the field.

Serious casualties and failures of performance led the government to contract expensive testing of these recruits, and this is what was found.

When questioned about their failure to perform as expected, the older recruits replied consistantly that when they received their required military haircuts, they could no longer sense the enemy, they could no longer access a sixth sense , their intuition no longer was reliable, they couldnt read subtle signs as well or access subtle extrasensory information.

So the testing institute recruited more indian trackers, let them keep their long hair, and tested them in multiple areas.

Then they would pair two men together who had received the same scores on all the tests.

They would let one man in the pair keep his hair long, and gave the other man a military haircut.

Then the two men retook the tests.

Time after time the man with long hair kept making high scores.

Time after time, the man with the short hair failed the tests in which he had previously scored high scores.

Here is a typical test:

The recruit is sleeping out in the woods. An armed enemy approaches the sleeping man.

The long haired man is awakened out of his sleep by a strong sense of danger and gets away long before the enemy is close, long before any sounds from the approaching enemy are audible.

In another version of this test the long haired man senses an approach and somehow intuits that the enemy will perform a physical attack.

He follows his sixth sense and stays still, pretending to be sleeping, but quickly grabs the attacker and kills him as the attacker reaches down to strangle him.

This same man, after having passed these and other tests, then received a military haircut and consistantly failed these tests, and many other tests that he had previously passed.

So the document recommended that all Indian trackers be exempt from military haircuts.

In fact, it required that trackers keep their hair long.

Comment:

The mammalian body has evolved over millions of years. Survival skills of human and animal at times seem almost supernatural.

Science is constantly coming up with more discoveries about the amazing abilities of man and animal to survive.

Each part of the body has highly sensitive work to perform for the survival and well being of the body as a whole.

The body has a reason for every part of itself.

Hair is an extension of the nervous system, it can be correctly seen as exteriorized nerves, a type of highly evolved feelers or antennae that transmit vast amounts of important information to the brainstem, the limbic system, and the neocortex. Not only does hair in people, including facial hair in men, provide an information highway reaching the brain, hair also emits energy, the electromagnetic energy emitted by the brain into the outer environment.

This has been seen in Kirlian photography when a person is photographed with long hair and then rephotographed after the hair is cut.

When hair is cut, receiving and sending transmissions to and from the environment are greatly hampered.

This results in numbing-out .

Cutting of hair is a contributing factor to unawareness of environmental distress in local ecosystems.

It is also a contributing factor to insensitivity in relationships of all kinds. It contributes to sexual frustration.

Conclusion:

In searching for solutions for the distress in our world, it may be time for us to consider that many of our most basic assumptions about reality are in error.

It may be that a major part of the solution is looking at us in the face each morning when we see ourselves in the mirror.

The story of Sampson and Delilah in the Bible has a lot of encoded truth to tell us.

When Delilah cut Sampsons hair, the once undefeatable Sampson was defeated.
